Cyrille Colin

Head, Department of Medical Information, Health Evaluation and Clinical Research, Hospices Civils Lyon

Cyrille Colin is head of the department of medical information, health evaluation and clinical research at the university hospital, Hospices Civils Lyon. His research activities are targeted on quality of care and patient safety, health economics and technology assessment in health care. He headed the consortium CLARTE working for the French Health Ministry to develop and validate patient safety indicators from French administrative data bases, and contributed to the Patient Safety Indicators Initiative in OECD countries. He is member of IMECCHI (International Methodology Consortium for Coded Health Information) and works for the WHO Task Advisory Group ICD 11 for patient safety coding. He joined ICHOM (International Consortium for Health Outcome Measures) in 2016.

Olivier Creton

Vascular Surgeon, Clinique Charcot; Co-founder, MedSynApps

Olivier Creton is a vascular surgeon at the Clinique Charcot and co-founder of the company MedSynApps, specialised in the development of medical software. In 2001, he focused on “modern” surgery of phlebectasis under local anesthesia with fast recovery. This experience led him to realise the lack of trustworthy postoperative data to analyse the results of his interventions. Therefore he decided to develop, with partners, a software adapted to the study of patient outcomes in the case of the varicose pathology. From this experience, they created a tool called My Home Doctor, allowing better supervision of patient data and surgery.

Sabina De Rosi

Researcher, Management and Healthcare Laboratory (Mes Lab), Sant’Anna School of Advanced Studies

Sabina De Rosi is conducting a post-doc fellowship at the Management and Healthcare Laboratory of the Institute of Management. She is working on the systematic collection of Patient Reported Outcomes Measures (PROMS) within different health care pathways and its integration with patient reported experiences and satisfaction measures — incorporating them into a whole healthcare performance evaluation system. She obtained her Ph.D in management, innovation, health and sustainability from the Sant’Anna School of Advanced Studies in Pisa.

Maryline Fiaschi

Managing Director, Science|Business

Maryline Fiaschi combines experiences in media and European affairs. After six years managing EU education programmes with the European Commission, Fiaschi entered the media business in 2007 in Shanghai. She held business development positions at the Shanghai Daily and, back in Brussels, at EU affairs media company EurActiv before joining Science|Business in 2011. Today she is also an external evaluator for several EU education and R&I programmes. Maryline holds degrees from Université La Sorbonne, Università di Bologna and Université catholique de Louvain.

Pierre Meulien

Executive Director, Innovative Medicines Initiative (IMI)

Pierre Meulien is executive director of the Innovative Medicines Initiative (IMI), a €5 billion public-private partnership between the European Union and the European pharmaceutical industry. At IMI, he is responsible for the overall management of the program, which works to improve and accelerate the drug development process by facilitating collaboration between the key players involved in health research. Previously, Meulien was president and CEO of Genome Canada, where he raised money and oversaw the launch of novel projects and networks in the field of genomics-based technologies. He has a Ph.D. in molecular biology from the University of Edinburgh and carried out a postdoctoral fellowship at the Institut Pasteur in Paris.

Miguel Pera Román

Chief, Section of Colon and Rectal Surgery, Hospital del Mar

Miguel Pera Román is a colorectal surgeon working in the Hospital del Mar, Barcelona. He received training in colon and rectal surgery from the Mayo Clinic Phoenix (Arizona, USA) and was a research fellow at Mayo Clinic Rochester (Minnesota, USA) in 2001-2002. His research experience focuses on basic and clinical studies of outcomes of surgery in patients with colorectal cancer. He currently leads the Colorectal Cancer Research Group, Cancer Program at IMIM-Hospital del Mar (Barcelona Biomedical Research Park).

Matthias Schuppe

Policy Officer, DG Health and Food Safety, European Commission

Since 2013, Matthias Schuppe has been a policy officer at DG Health and Food Safety. He specialises in the State of Health in the EU initiative, the OECD-HCQI indicator development, and the EU Health information strategy at the European Commission. Before joining the country knowledge and scientific committees unit, his focus was communicable diseases (HIV, tuberculosis, HBV/HCV) and health emergency operations in the crisis management and preparedness in health unit from 2013 to 2015. Previously, he was a consultant for the European Public Health Alliance from 2012 to 2013 and secretary general of the European Health Forum Gastein in Austria from 2005 to 2012.

Véronique Trillet-Lenoir

President of the Management Committee, Cancéropôle Lyon Rhône Alpes Auvergne (CLARA)

Véronique Trillet-Lenoir is currently secretary general of the French National Oncology Council and the president of the management committee of the Cancéropôle Lyon Rhône Alpes Auvergne (CLARA), a research cluster dedicated to cancer. She worked as scientific advisor for the healthcare quality Department of the French National Cancer Institute (INCa) until 2008. She is highly active and involved in various aspects of the fight against cancer.

Laurent Vandebrouck

Managing Director Europe, Qualcomm Life

Laurent Vandebrouck joined Qualcomm in 2003, taking the position of commercial director for Qualcomm subsidiary Qualcomm Wireless Business Solutions Europe. He held different roles within Qualcomm and its subsidiaries, including managing director at GlobalTRACS Europe, and senior director EMEA, carrier strategy & new business development at Qualcomm Enterprise Services. He specialises in strategic business planning, commercial development and the assessment and launch of new businesses in eHealth, wireless and satellite communication sectors. Prior to working with Qualcomm, he held a variety of roles within the telecommunications industry, gathering 25 years of experience in the field.
